

Reading Rocks

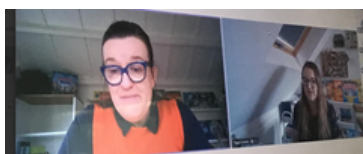

Everyone, every day, forever

The National Year of Reading is in full swing and the children and staff have really embraced it. From Storytime Bingo in the classrooms to Reading Cafes in the Hall and of course a week full of reading treats around World Book Day, we hope that your child has been enjoying everything we have offered so far.

Stockport Children's Book Awards 2026

We can't believe that it is this time of year again already! This week all of the classes in school read the first of the books in the competition 'The Forever Bear' by Lu Fraser and Pippa Curnick, and many of us were lucky enough to join in with an online meet and greet to find out more about how the book was made. The Reading Champions have been doing a wonderful job of delivering the books and can't wait to start counting up the votes in a few weeks time. The Stockport Children's Book Awards creates such a wonderful buzz about books and reading around school.

World Book Night

On 23rd April, people across the UK will dedicate time to reading. There are lots of ways to do this; reading alone, having a book club meeting, listening to an audiobook, or (our favourite) reading to children at bedtime. In preparation for this, we are asking the children to bring in their favourite bedtime story to share with friends this Thursday (23rd April). We hope that you will then be able to find some time to read books with your family for this special reading celebration.

Hooks into Books

Sometimes parents come to us asking for tips to get their children more excited about reading at home. The best advice? Think about what they love to do and find books to match. Whether it's bats or baking, dinosaurs or digging, art or acrobatics, there is a book for everyone and your child's interests are the best place to start!
