

Reading Rocks

Everyone, everyday, for ever

World Book Day 2024

Next half term we will be celebrating World Book Day with a week of events to help children develop an excitement for books and reading. The day itself is Thursday 7th March and children are welcome to come either in fancy dress as a favourite character or in their pyjamas with a bedtime story. We will also be inviting children to bring a grown up to school that morning for the first part of the day (8:45-9:15) for a reading session. Some of the other things we have planned are a Reading Cafe, stories read by mystery readers and our annual 'Masked Reader' poem of the day. We can't wait and hope that the children will be just as excited as we are!

Extreme Reading!

What is the strangest place your child can read a book? It is often said that books are a uniquely portable kind of magic and we want to show children that you can enjoy a book pretty much anywhere. Over the holidays we are asking children to show us the most unusual place they have read a book. Please email your pictures to claire.nelson@cheadle-inf.stockport.sch.uk so we can share them in assembly.

Reading Rocks

Everyone, everyday, for ever

Blue Tokens in Tesco

Thank you to everyone who has helped support us by choosing to vote for our 'Outdoor Reading Sheds' with their blue tokens. We are hoping that this will give us the funds to provide children with somewhere to read and enjoy books at lunchtimes as the weather improves. Watch this space!

Just a reminder that we are always in need of children's comics and magazines to add to our book corners in class. The children love reading different types of texts so if you have any at home that you have finished with we would be very grateful to take them off your hands. Anything from CBeebies and Peppa Pig to Nat Geo Junior, The Week and Match of the Day would be very gratefully received. Thank you!